What happened on the financial markets

European high-yield bonds performed well in June 2026, with the iBoxx index rising by +62 bps, driven mainly by the rise in yields (+66 bps on the Bund), whilst spreads remained stable (+3 bps to 295 bps). The iTraxx Xover narrowed by -14 bps to 245, reaching its tightest levels. The market benefited from the agreement between the United States and Iran, and the reopening of the Strait of Hormuz, which eased inflationary fears and relieved pressure on yields (the Euro IG index rose by +44 bps over the month). Inflows have been rising since the start of the conflict in February, with €930 million in net inflows in June. The primary market remains buoyant, with €14 billion in gross issuance (including refinancing) and sustained demand.
